

4 January 2018

Dear Parents and Carers

I am delighted to be writing my first letter to you as the new Headteacher of Enfield County School.

My vision here at Enfield County is for every girl to have an outstanding education which will equip her with the resilience to deal with the demands that life makes of her and enable her to take her place in society as a well-educated, confident, caring and compassionate young woman.

The Enfield County values and ethos of: Respect, Responsibility, Equality of Opportunity, Cooperation and Generosity of Spirit resonate strongly with me and I will work to ensure that this ethos continues to develop and imbue all aspects of school life.

Joining Enfield County in January with a full term of the academic year already completed will allow me the opportunity to become more knowledgeable about the school in its day to day life and the systems and structures already in place, which will support further school improvement planning.

I intend to be visible in and around the school sites at the beginning and end of the school day and look forward to meeting you and, of course, your daughters.

I welcome working in partnership with you and the school community to ensure the very best for your daughter and wish you a very happy and peaceful 2018.

Best wishes

Ms Jennifer Gumbrell
