

International Celebration Evening

On March 22nd, Enfield County School celebrated diversity in our school. The event was a huge success: there was an incredible range of talents showcased, ranging from dancing and drama performances to poetry read in different languages.

The event began with a power point presentation of all the wonderful things that have happened at county; cake sales in order to raise money for the British Lung foundation, the sickle cell society and children in need, European day of languages: which allowed our students to exhibit their cultural food, clothes and dancing. The evening then proceeded onto Ms. Costa speaking about the significant work that the sixth formers have done for the Holocaust Educational Trust, a beautiful poem was read out by Besma Bokhamy: 'Don't forget your keys'. The school orchestra then performed 'Blue Mountain River', led by Ms. McGinley.

Proceeding this, Mrs. Goulding praised the international charity work that the post-16 students have been doing- girls from year 12 and 13 travelled to Ghana, Nepal, Kenya or Somalia to teach English maths and science to the students, they said it 'was a truly amazing experience'. Following this acknowledgment of even more international success, Mrs. Fitzjohn presented Teoni Thomas-Charles with a certificate to award her for an inspirational poem on diversity and the importance of being different.

The event was a very successful accomplishment of Enfield County school students, it was a display of our diversity, talent and co-operation; of both students and teachers. We'd like to give a special thank you to parents, carers, staff and the school governors. The event was the clear representation of our school: diverse, co-operative and our generosity of spirit; a true community'

Some comments from other Yr 10 students.
